When seeking low-cost vet care, patrons should understand these are highly sought after services and there may be a lengthy wait to be seen by a veterinarian as a walk-in and/or it may be difficult to secure an appointment. Patrons should also understand these services generally do not provide intensive hospitalized care and/or critical emergency services, and if those are the services their pet needs, they may be referred to a 24-hr clinic that tend to be costly. All vets nationwide are experiencing unprecedented levels of busyness due to the huge increase in pet ownership during the pandemic, and they are not immune to the staff shortages all businesses have been experiencing. Patience and kindness are appreciated as veterinarians are working their hardest to provide the best care they can to as many pets and people as is possible!*
